WORSE AND MORE OF IT

THE discovery of the News that the constitutional amendment taxing patented mines is not being circulated because the law makes no provision for payment, is quite correct. If the News will read the law still further it will discover that the fourteen thousand copies required by law to be circulated must be sent to "each county clerk in the state." Thus fourteen times fourteen thousand is exactly one hundred and ninety six thousand, and the law adds they must "be printed and circulated without cost to the State." The state will have some trouble, we apprehend, getting a newspaper in Nevada to undertake the task.

"Do we want to annex Cuba?" is a question being discussed in various papers. The answer depends on whether the tobacco and sugar trusts will profit more by annexation than by independence.

REPUBLICAN "harmony" is illustrated by the refusal of the republican nominee for governor to make the race in Colorado. The brilliancy of republican prospects in Colorado is also evidenced by the refusal.

THE day has gone by when political platform makers can trifle with the intelligence of the people. The Chicago Record-Herald, (Rep.) referring to a platform adopted by the Ohio republican says: "The platform, if it means anything, means this—that it is dangerous to elect democrats because they are presumably opposed to the president's policies but that it is not at all dangerous or paradoxical to encourage praise and elect republicans who are actually and notoriously out of sympathy with the president. This 'idea' will hardly 'take' in Ohio."
